Bon Secours Arts and Science College for Women, Dindigul, celebrated the harvest festival of Pongal with great enthusiasm and cultural splendour on 13th January 2026 at 9.30 a.m. The programme began with a traditional procession followed by a prayer song, invoking divine blessings for prosperity and harmony. The gathering was formally welcomed and the Chief Guests were honoured with due respect.

The celebration was spiritually enriched by Bible reading and the ceremonial blessing of Pongal items. The traditional Pongal preparation highlighted gratitude to nature and the farming community. A series of traditional games such as Water Filling, Sack Race, Lemon in the Spoon, Uri Yadi, and Lucky Corner for staff were conducted, drawing active participation from students and staff.

The Chief Guest, Rev. Fr. A. Thomas John Peter, addressed the students on the importance of cultivating strong reading habits to enhance knowledge, discipline, and personal growth. Adding a lively cultural touch, he rendered a Kummi Adi song, which was enthusiastically joined by both students and staff, creating a joyful and inclusive festive atmosphere.

The cultural segment featured a dance programme organised by the Department of B.Com, showcasing the students' talent and appreciation of traditional art forms. Many students actively participated in the Uri Yadi event, and the prize was proudly won by Ms. Subhashini, earning loud applause from the audience.

The programme concluded with prize distribution, followed by the serving of Sweet Pongal to all students, teaching and non-teaching staff, symbolising unity, sharing, and festive joy. The celebration ended with a vote of thanks, leaving behind cherished memories and a strengthened sense of cultural pride and community spirit.
